Texas Department of Transportation officials Monday announced the first major intersection of the State Highway 121 project in The Colony will be completed this month.

Officials expect the 121 underpass at Main Street and Josey Lane will completely open to traffic next week.

City officials in The Colony expect the opening to ease traffic at the intersection, which is regularly congested during rush hour. Officials also said Monday they expected the 121 and Standridge Drive intersection to be complete by the end of the month. TxDOT crews are constructing main lanes on the future toll road, which is expected to open early next year.
