Hawaiian Falls/The Colony Announces $600,000 Expansion

Waterpark Adds 3-Slide Structure, Sprayground, Dive-In Movies and Concerts

THE COLONY, Texas (May 17, 2007) -- Hawaiian Falls/The Colony hosted a group of business and community leaders to celebrate a $600,000 expansion that will include the new Honolulu Lulu, a 44-foot slide complex featuring three thrilling flumes, the Tiki Island sprayground, and the Aloha Bowl concert stage.

“The expansion provides features that will appeal to the youngest member of the family while adding a new level of excitement for teens and young adults,” said David Busch, president and CEO of Hawaiian Falls. “Hawaiian Falls has always been a great environment for families to play together, and we are committed to continue providing a wholesome, fun environment to meet their needs.”

The waterpark will offer a weekly “Dive-In” movie each Thursday evening. The park plans to show family-friendly movies such as “Happy Feet,” “Yours, Mine and Ours,” and “Charlotte’s Web.” The expansion also will include new cabanas, an expanded party area, and the addition of a Pizza Hut Express to complement the food and beverage options.
