Restaurant's Training Week Creates Hot Meals for Local Police and Firefighters

The Colony's Finest Get First Taste of Hand-cut Steaks, Fall-off-the Bone Ribs and Made-from-Scratch Sides

(The Colony, TX. – December 10, 2007) – When Texas Roadhouse comes to a new town, the restaurant reaches out to local organizations from the get-go. This week, as the restaurant trains new cooks, meat cutters and other kitchen team members, local police and firefighters are the first to sample the fruits of their labor. In addition to donating meals, Friday and Saturday night the restaurant will host invitation-only pre-opening events and raise money for the Wipe Out Kids' Cancer.

“Having lost five members of my immediate family to cancer, I understand first-hand how it affects people from all walks of life,” says Craig Worrall, Managing Partner of Texas Roadhouse. “Nothing is more painful than watching a young child deal with cancer during what should be the best years of their life. We are proud to partner with Wipe Out Kids' Cancer and will continue to support this and other local agencies.”

When the restaurant officially opens the doors at 4125 State Highway 121, on Monday, December 17, from 4:00 – 10:00 p.m., locals will get their first taste of family-friendly fun complete with legendary hand-cut steaks, fall-off-the bone ribs and made-from-scratch sides.

The Colony Texas Roadhouse brings 168 new jobs to this community.

Media invitations for pre-opening festivities are available by request – please call Craig Worrall at 972-625-6600.

Friday, December 14 5:00 – 8:30 p.m.

Saturday, December 15 5:00 – 8:30 p.m.
